Welcome to MedStar Georgetown University Hospital.

Service to others is a hallmark of MedStar Georgetown University Hospital's Jesuit heritage. Georgetown employees – whether we are direct patient caregivers or staff who support our patient care mission – recognize not only the importance of expert care, but also of compassionate care. We are committed to treating patients, families and visitors with respect. And, we pledge to do everything we can to provide you with the greatest comfort possible while you are here.

You may have read that we are a Magnet hospital – the first one in Washington, DC. This signifies that our nursing department has been recognized as among the top 4% in the nation. This translates directly into the best possible care and outcomes for you, our patients.

At Georgetown, we consider our patients to be part of the healthcare team. You are the most important member of this team, and we encourage you to ask your doctors, nurses and other healthcare providers questions about your care. To help ensure that your needs are met during your stay at Georgetown, this Handbook is designed to inform you of the many services available to you.

After you return home, you may receive a telephone call from Discovery Research asking you to tell them about your experiences at MedStar Georgetown University Hospital. We are very proud of our physicians and staff and rely on your comments to recognize deserving staff members. Your feedback is very important to us, so please take the time to talk to the surveyor.

Thank you for choosing to receive care at MedStar Georgetown University Hospital.
With warmest wishes for your quick recovery,

About Us

MedStar Georgetown University Hospital was founded in 1898 to promote health through education, research and patient care. This mission reflects Georgetown’s Catholic, Jesuit identity and heritage. With a 609-licensed bed hospital and 1,300 physicians, MedStar Georgetown University Hospital’s clinical services represent one of the largest healthcare delivery networks in the area.

MedStar Georgetown University Hospital is consistently ranked among the best in the nation. The hospital first received Stroke Certification from The Joint Commission in 2006. The Lombardi Comprehensive Cancer Center is the only facility in the Washington, DC area designated by the National Cancer Institute (NCI) as a Comprehensive Cancer Center.

Georgetown’s transplant program is the only program in the nation’s capital and one of only a handful of Medicare-approved centers nationwide performing multi-organ transplants. Such procedures involve not only the intestine and liver, but also the stomach, pancreas, and/or kidneys. Georgetown Neurosciences is the first on the East Coast and the sixth in the nation to offer the CyberKnife, the latest in stereotactic radiosurgery, to treat tumors and lesions of the brain, neck, spine, and other organs.

In 2004 and again in 2008, MedStar Georgetown University Hospital was awarded Magnet Status for excellence in nursing care. Fewer than 4% of the nation’s hospitals have earned this recognition, and we are proud that Georgetown was the first Magnet hospital in Washington, DC, and remains the only Magnet hospital serving adult patients.

MedStar Georgetown University Hospital and its sister hospital, Washington Hospital Center, are the only two hospitals in the District of Columbia to win the prestigious Quality Excellence Award from the Delmarva Foundation. Winning this award says a lot about MedStar Health and its hospitals’ commitment to elevating their high level of quality care. Also, it means everything to the people who rely on us to continue our patient-first tradition of providing premier medical care offered by experienced, dedicated and compassionate healthcare professionals.

The Delmarva Award recognizes significant and sustained quality improvement by individual hospitals in four national inpatient clinical areas – acute myocardial infarction (heart attack), heart failure, surgical care improvement and pneumonia. The Delmarva Foundation for Medical Care partners with the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to improve the quality of healthcare in the District of Columbia.

Settling In for Your Stay at MedStar Georgetown University Hospital

Admitting and Registration
Getting correct information each time you visit MedStar Georgetown University Hospital is very important as insurers require the most up-to-date information. In addition, we have many patients who share the same last name. The registration process is designed to validate past information or make changes. This leads to greater convenience in record retrieval for future health visits and insurance/billing processes. By checking your address, birth date and other relevant data each time you register, we are making sure that your medical records and bills are handled smoothly and that your safety and identity are protected through accurate record identification.

Cashier's Office
The Cashier's Office is located on the first floor of the main hospital across the hall from the concierge's desk and is open Monday through Friday from 8:15 a.m. to 4:15 p.m.

Advance Directives
Advance Directives are instructions written by you that state your choices for medical treatment or name someone to make such choices for you should you become unable to make decisions yourself. Advance Directives enable you to limit or extend the use of medical or life-sustaining procedures. MedStar Georgetown University Hospital offers a booklet called "Making Decisions about your Medical Care" that can help your family and physicians understand your desires with regard to end-of-life decisions.

Each patient has the right to have an Advance Directive (e.g., living will) concerning treatment decisions and/or designating a surrogate decision-maker with the expectation that the hospital will honor the intent of that Directive to the extent permitted by law and hospital policy. You have the right to timely information about hospital policy or District law that may limit the ability to implement fully a legally valid Advance Directive. It is imperative that you discuss your Advance Directive with your physician prior to hospitalization, during the hospital stay and after discharge. If you would like to fill out an Advance Directive, please call Pastoral Care at ext. 4-3030 or Patient Access at ext. 4-3180. This document is also available in Spanish.

Financial Assistance
If you have a concern about your insurance coverage, please discuss this with your Case Manager.

Identification Bracelet
Be sure to wear your hospital identification bracelet during your entire visit. If you receive a colored safety bracelet, keep that on as well. Colors used at Georgetown include red for allergies; yellow for patient at risk to fall; grey for obstructive sleep apnea; and pink for restricted extremity for venipuncture or blood pressure.

Your Room

We are committed to ensuring that you are as comfortable as possible during your stay with us. Your room assignment depends upon the type of care you require. Some services are restricted to specific locations to ensure proper care is being provided. We will make every effort to provide the type of accommodations that you request.

Please be aware that we have a limited number of private rooms and they are assigned based on medical necessity and then on a first-come first-served basis, as they are available.

Upon admission, the nursing staff will acquaint you with various features in your room, including your bed's electrical controls and the nurse-call system. Here are a few suggestions to make your stay as safe as possible:

- Keep the top two side rails raised while in the bed to avoid rolling out while asleep or under sedation.
- Store eyeglasses and dentures in the drawer of your bedside table (and be sure to place dentures in the special cup for that purpose—do not wrap them in tissues).
- Do not use electric appliances such as blow dryers and shavers (battery-operated razors are acceptable).
- Inform the nurse of any medications you brought from home and use them only if your doctor writes the order to do so (under nursing supervision).

To call your nurse, a call button is attached to your pillow or bed linen. There is also a call button in each bathroom and shower. When you press the button, the nursing station is alerted that you need assistance and a light flashes above your door. A staff member will respond to your signal.

Patient Safety and Care Concerns

MedStar Georgetown University Hospital actively encourages your involvement in your care. Please tune your television to the Patient Education channel as soon as you are settled and watch the Georgetown Safety video. It describes many of our patient safety practices and explains your role in assuring a safe hospital stay. Report any patient safety concerns related to care, treatment or services to your nurse or the nurse manager of the unit. If these concerns are not addressed to your satisfaction, please contact a Patient Advocate at ext. 4-3040 or page an Advocate at ext. 4-CARE. If the Advocate cannot resolve the issue to your satisfaction, you may contact the DC Department of Health at (202) 442-4737 or The Joint Commission at (800) 994-6610 or via email at complaint@jointcommission.org.

If you or your loved one feels something is wrong, please notify your nurse immediately. He/she can notify the Rapid Response Critical Care nurse to evaluate the situation. The Rapid Response nurse is called when there are changes in the way a patient breathes, changes in the way someone is talking or thinking, seizures or when you are not sure what is wrong but something just doesn’t seem right. The critical care nurse will evaluate the situation and help to transfer the patient to a higher level of care, if needed.

If you are unable to reach your nurse immediately, please approach any nurse on your unit to report your concern.

Housekeeping
Our Housekeeping staff seeks to provide you with very good care by keeping your room and the nursing unit clean and tidy. Your housekeeper completely cleans and disinfects your room before you are admitted into the room. Housekeepers clean patient rooms daily, between 7:00 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. They will remove trash from your room at least once daily, as well as wipe off table surfaces, chairs, and heating units and dust the television and the floor. Your bathroom will also be cleaned. Any spills or other housekeeping issues should be reported to your nurse whenever they happen, so housekeeping can be notified to clean your room.

Housekeeping conducts surveys during your stay to learn about your current experience here at MedStar Georgetown University Hospital. You may also receive a more general patient survey in the mail after you are discharged. Please take a few minutes to complete and return the questionnaire. Your comments and suggestions will be confidentially shared with our managers and staff. Feedback from our patients provides us with valuable information that helps us improve our housekeeping services as well as recognize those employees who go above and beyond.

Bed Linens

Your bedding will be changed on a regular basis and as necessary. The general routine is for the staff to routinely freshen your bed and assist you with your bath during the day shift. However, there may be times when this is done on evenings or nights to accommodate testing, surgery or patient preference. Remember that it is very easy to misplace small personal items in your bedding. Please be careful to secure such belongings in your plastic bag or bedside table.

Interpreter Services — Sign and Spoken Languages

Interpreter services for both American Sign Language (ASL) and over 175 spoken languages is available 24/7 to all patients and families for appointments, procedures and hospital stays. Interpretation is provided primarily by video and phone through the MedStar Interpreter Network (MIN), an on-demand spoken and sign language interpretation system which provides immediate access to qualified medical interpreters. There is no cost to patients or families for interpretation at the hospital.

GUH interpreters or Language Services Advocates provide MIN and in-person interpretation, and also assist patients and families with any cultural or special needs. Dual Handset Telephones and/or mobile video units are placed at bedside for on-demand connection to interpreter services through the MIN systems. Your physician or nurse may also use other telephone devices to ensure that all aspects of your care are communicated through a qualified interpreter. In-person interpreters are scheduled as needed.

All interpretation on the MIN system is provided remotely by Georgetown and other hospital-based medical interpreters on a closed and secure network.

MIN interpretation is not broadcast or recorded.

Call Language Services Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at ext. 4-8377, email asl@gunet.georgetown.edu or speak to your nurse about your language needs and preferences.

Assistive Devices for Deaf or Hard of Hearing

FedEx collection boxes are located at the entrances to the Pasquerilla Healthcare Center (PHC) and the Lombardi Comprehensive Cancer Center.
Mobile Website
From a medical encyclopedia and a drug information database to lecture videos and healthcare news stories, MedStar Georgetown University Hospital's website contains a wide range of useful information. In addition to accessing this information on laptops, a mobile version of the website allows for optimal viewing on various smart phones. Please visit www.georgetownuniversityhospital.org.

Medication Safety
Medications are an important part of your treatment plan. You must tell your practitioner all medications as well as the doses you are taking, including prescription drugs, over-the-counter drugs, diet supplements, herbals and/or vitamins. This is very important because even the most common drugs can cause complications when taken with other medications or treatments.

Some patients find it helpful to bring in their medications so that the staff can be sure of the exact drug type and dosage you have been taking. (Your personal medications will then be sent home with your family.) It is also very important to inform your healthcare team of any allergies or adverse reactions to foods, drinks, medications or sensitivity to latex.

When a healthcare member enters your room to administer your medications, he or she will need to verify your identity by looking at your identification band and asking your name and date of birth. For your safety, all healthcare team members will ask you your name and date of birth to ensure your identity.

It is a good idea to carry a wallet-size information card (such as an index card) with your vital health history, including medications you are currently taking as well as notation of any allergies to medications. If you would like a copy of the medications you are taking while in the hospital, please contact your nurse, who will have the list printed for you. You will receive a final list of medications at discharge. Remember to discard old medication lists and update your providers and pharmacies regarding your new medication list.

Tests and Diagnostic Procedures
During your inpatient stay you may be asked to undergo various tests. You may be asked not to eat or drink during particular time periods. For other tests, you may be asked to undergo special preparations or drink specific liquids prior to the test being performed. Some tests may even take longer than one day to complete. Following all the instructions will help to ensure the accuracy and reliability of the test results. Regardless of what tests you may have, we will fully explain each one to you and inform you of any special preparations or restrictions required.

Valuables
We strongly encourage family members to take patient valuables home. When this is not possible, valuables can be secured in the hospital safe in the Protective Services Office. A nurse can arrange this for you. Please immediately inform your nurse of any possessions brought into the hospital after admission so he/she can add them to your clothing list. When not in use, your eyeglasses, hearing aids, and dentures should be safely stored in your bedside table. Please ask your nurse for a storage bag, if needed. Remember that patients are responsible for valuables left in their rooms.

Visiting Hours
Visiting hours vary with patient care areas. Listed below are general visiting hours, HOWEVER, these hours may change depending on a number of variables. Please confirm with your nurse.

Medical Surgical Units
Visitors are welcome from 11:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on most general medical or surgical units. However, hours vary based on the level of care, the type of unit and physician's instructions. Ask your nurse for information about your unit. Due to the limited amount of space in the patient rooms and waiting areas, we ask that you limit your visitors to two people at a time. Please be courteous and considerate of other patients.

Intensive Care Units
Other than during situations involving patient emergencies, visiting hours for the intensive care units are from 11:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.
(The exception is between 7:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. when nurses change shift and make rounds on each patient.) Visitors are generally limited to members of the immediate family and are allowed at the discretion of the nursing staff. Flowers and plants are not permitted in intensive care units. Policy prohibits visitation overnight in patient rooms. Children under 12 years of age are not permitted in adult patient care areas. Exceptions to this are in the post partum maternity unit where maternity patients may arrange through their nurses for older siblings to visit mom and the new baby.

Pediatrics

In NICU, PICU, and Pediatrics, parents can visit at any time. In NICU no children under the age of 16 are permitted, except siblings, and a parent must accompany all visitors. In pediatrics, arrangements may be made through the nurse for sibling visits.

Psychiatry (5W)

Psychiatry visiting hours are as follows:

- Monday – Friday  12:00 noon – 2:00 p.m.
- Monday – Thursday  7:30 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.
- Friday  5:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.
- Saturday & Sunday  3:00 p.m. – 9:00 p.m.
- Holidays  12:00 noon – 9:00 p.m.

Maternity/Perinatal

Visitors are limited to 2, in addition to the primary support person (husband/partner). Children under the age of 14 are not permitted, unless it is a sibling of the newborn. A sibling under the age of 14 DOES NOT count as one of the 3 visitors. Visiting hours for Labor and Delivery are not restricted. For Maternity, visiting hours are from 11:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

During Surgery

Family members and visitors may wait in the Surgical Waiting Room on the 2nd floor of the CCC Building if you are going to be admitted to the hospital following surgery. If you are going home after your surgical procedure, family members may wait in the Same Day Surgery Center waiting room on the ground floor of the CCC Building. Visitors are not permitted in the operating rooms at any time. In some circumstances, family members may visit patients in the PACU following surgery for brief periods. The Surgical Liaison will be in the 2nd floor waiting room between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. The liaison is there to answer your family's questions and provide information as it becomes available. During the hours when she is not there, your family may receive information from the Operating Rooms via the waiting room telephone and the perioperative nurses.

Your Role In Preventing Infections

The MedStar Georgetown University Hospital Infection Prevention Program is committed to patient safety by doing everything possible to prevent the spread of infections among patients, healthcare workers, and visitors. Frequent contact is made between people who have an infection, and people who can easily become infected. Some types of procedures can increase a patient's risk of infection. Preventing infections is important to help patients recover quickly.

Cleanliness is the key to infection prevention and control. The best way to prevent the spread of infection is through good hand washing with soap and water or with alcohol-based hand foam using the following simple guidelines:

Hand Wash Procedure
• Wet hands with warm water.
• Apply soap.
• Rub together fronts/backs for 15 seconds.
• Rinse thoroughly & dry completely.
• Use paper towel to turn off water.

Alcohol-based Hand Foam Procedure
• Dispense hand foam into one hand.
• Spread thoroughly over front/back hands.
• Rub until dry.

When should you wash your hands?
• After using the toilet, blowing your nose, or sneezing.
• After handling dirty items.
• Before and after eating, drinking, or handling food.
• When your hands look dirty.

Everyone should wash his/her hands before and after entering your room. There is easily accessible alcohol-based hand foam at the entrance to your room for this purpose. Feel free to ask anyone entering your room to wash their hands if you have not seen them do so. Other ways to prevent infections include, but are not limited to:

• Always use good personal hygiene.
• Don't share patient care items such as creams, glassware, or towels with your roommate.
• Take an active part in your care.
• If you have an illness that could be dangerous to others, don't visit the hospital while you are infectious.
• If you have questions about certain situations, ask a doctor or nurse.
• Be aware of infection possibilities and early signs of infection (coughs, fever, rashes, redness, swelling).

There are times when patients can become infected or colonized with resistant forms of bacteria, such as MRSA or VRE. In these particular cases, we must place patients in contact isolation to prevent the spread of those bacteria to other patients and/or caregivers. When in isolation, all who enter the room will wear a gown and a set of gloves. This includes any visitors that may come to see the patient. In addition, very strict hand hygiene and cleaning must take place to prevent the spread of these germs. If you would like further information on this topic, please call the Infection Prevention Department at 444-3686.

Advocacy and International Services Department

If you have a question or concern, the first place to turn is to your doctor, nurse coordinator, or another member of your healthcare team. When the staff does not help you to your satisfaction, or you have a special concern or need, call a Patient Advocate. Patient Advocates provide advocacy and assistance to patients/families and physicians in all care settings and act as liaisons between patients, physicians, hospital staff and departments to recognize and remove any obstacles to providing high quality care. Advocates can be contacted Monday through Friday 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. at ext. 4-3040 and by pager on the Patient Care Line at ext. 4-CARE (ext. 4-2273).

The Advocacy and International Services Department also assists patients in the identification of family lodging with hotels in the area who offer special Georgetown rates as well as cosmetology and notary services for inpatients. The department can be contacted at ext. 4-3040, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. After hours and on weekends, contact the Patient Care Line or the Clinical Administrator through the Page Operator at 4-PAGE (ext. 4-7243). If you have continuing concerns about patient care or safety issues, you may contact The Joint Commission’s Office of Quality Monitoring by either calling (800) 994-6610 or e-mail at complaint@jointcommission.org You may also address your concerns to the District of Columbia Department of Health at (202) 442-4737 or e-mail doh@dc.gov. Please know that we would be pleased to work with you in resolving any issues. Do not hesitate to contact any member of the healthcare team to discuss any concerns.

Privacy Issues

The staff at Georgetown values the privacy and modesty of our patients, and seeks to create a sense of security and personal space for all of those in our care. Staff members will knock and pause before entering your room, and close curtains before exams or procedures.

Please note, however, that while we are committed to protecting your privacy, we also must identify your name and room in order to coordinate care. Most nursing units use large white boards that will identify your room number, last name and nurse. This is the primary communication tool to assure smoothly coordinated care. If this is problematic to you, please contact your nurse and we will be happy to make alternative arrangements.

To protect patient privacy, all digital or mobile phone photography or audio recordings are prohibited unless cleared with hospital External Affairs.

We value the privacy of your medical information and strive to use only the minimum amount of your health information necessary for the purposes described in the Notice of Privacy Practices (NPP), which you were offered before receiving care at Georgetown. We collect information from you and use it to provide you with quality care, and to comply with certain legal requirements. Everyone who supports or participates in your care at Georgetown is required by law to maintain the privacy of your health information. If you would like to receive another copy of the NPP, please contact your nurse.

Help us protect your privacy by designating one individual as your spokesperson to receive updates concerning your health information. This spokesperson can then relay your progress to other members of your family and friends as appropriate. Have your spokesperson ask your nurse for a preferred time to call the nurses station.

Become Involved in Your Care!

Patient safety is a prime concern of everyone at MedStar Georgetown University Hospital and we consider maintenance of a safe environment to be everyone’s job. We also depend on you to help this effort by becoming an active and informed participant in your healthcare. You are the center of the healthcare team. Participate in all decisions about your treatment.

MedStar Georgetown University Hospital endorses the "Speak Up" program recommended by The Joint Commission to help patients get involved in their care. Here are some ways that you can participate:

Speak up if you have questions or concerns, and if you don't understand, ask again. It's your body and you have a right to know.

- Your health is too important to worry about being embarrassed if you don't understand something that your doctor, nurse, or other healthcare professional tells you.
- Don't be afraid to tell the nurse or doctor if you think you are about to receive the wrong medication.

Pay attention to the care you are receiving. Make sure you are getting the right treatments and medications by the right healthcare professionals. Don't assume anything.

- Tell your nurse or doctor if something doesn't seem quite right.

- Expect healthcare workers to introduce themselves and look for their identification badges.
- Hand washing is the most important way to prevent the spread of infections. Notice whether your caregivers have washed their hands and don't be afraid to remind them to do this.
- Be aware of the time of the day you normally receive a medication and if that doesn't happen, bring this to the attention of your nurse or doctor.
- Make sure that your nurse or doctor checks your wristband or asks your name and date of birth before he or she administers any medication or treatment.
Educate yourself about your diagnosis, the medical tests you are undergoing, and your treatment plan.

- Gather information about your condition. Good sources include your doctor, your library and respected websites and support groups.
- Write down important facts your doctor tells you so that you can look for additional information later.
- Thoroughly read all medical forms and make sure you understand them before signing anything. If you don't understand something, ask your doctor or nurse to explain.
- Be sure you are familiar with the operation of any equipment that is being used in your care.

Ask a trusted family member or friend to be your advocate.

- Your advocate can ask questions that you may not think of when you are under stress.
- Your advocate can also help remember answers to questions and speak up for you if you cannot.
- Make sure this person understands your preferences for your care and your wishes concerning resuscitation and life support. This should be explicitly stated in your Advance Directive.
- Review consents with your advocate before signing and be sure you both understand what you are agreeing to.
- Make sure your advocate understands the type of care you will need when you get home. Your advocate should know what to look for if your condition is getting worse and whom to call for help.

Know what medications you take and why you take them. Medication errors are the most common healthcare mistake.

- Ask about the purpose of the medication and ask for written information about it, including its brand and generic names. Also, inquire about the side effects of the medication.
- If you don't recognize a medication, verify that it is for you.
- Whenever you are going to receive a new medication, tell your doctors and nurses about allergies you have, or negative reactions you have had to medications in the past.
- If you are taking multiple medications or a new medication, be sure you tell your physician and nurse about over-the-counter drugs, vitamins and herbal supplements to be sure that it is safe to take them together.

Choose a Magnet Hospital, clinic, or surgery center that has undergone a rigorous on-site evaluation against established, state-of-the-art nursing quality and safety standards.

- MedStar Georgetown University Hospital was awarded Magnet Status in 2004 and 2008 and submits a detailed quality report yearly to assure ongoing excellence.
MedStar Georgetown University Hospital also undergoes The Joint Commission accreditation. The lengthy survey process reviews procedures, safety aspects, documentation, as well as other key indicators of quality and patient safety standards.

Other Important Services and Departments

Blood Donor Service
Most patients who are transfused at MedStar Georgetown University Hospital receive blood units donated by volunteer donors.

Volunteer Donors
American Red Cross and our other blood center donors are volunteers. None are paid for their donations. Donors are carefully screened by a questionnaire approved by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) and each unit of blood is tested for infectious diseases by methods that meet all requirements for the FDA and the American Association of Blood Banks.
Some patients or their physicians prefer autologous (self-donated) blood when possible. Occasionally, patients request that they receive blood given by someone they know (directed donors). MedStar Georgetown University Hospital receives its blood supply for transfusions from the American Red Cross community blood center and our other blood centers.

Autologous Donation (Self Donated)
Patients who are scheduled for elective surgery have the option of donating their own blood, which is then, if necessary, transfused back to them during or after surgery. Please discuss this option with your physician.

Directed Donations (Family/Friends)
Some patients who are scheduled for surgery or other medical indications for transfusion may want their family member or friends to donate blood for their transfusions. We have no information that blood from family members or friends is safer than blood from our volunteer donors. However, we understand the concerns that some persons have about blood transfusions and will provide this special service for patients who request it.

Directed donors must meet strict health requirements. The ideal directed donors are persons who have previously been volunteer blood donors.

For more information about our blood services, autologous or directed donor blood donation, please call our Blood Donor Service at (202) 444-5425. The Coordinator, Blood Donor Service, can help you schedule autologous or directed blood collections at a convenient blood donor service.

Healthcare Referral
MedStar Georgetown University Hospital has two telephone referral services to assist you in finding physicians, services and information within the Georgetown system. This service is provided free of charge. Staffed by nurses, this service is an invaluable resource for scheduling appointments, finding a physician at Georgetown and health education.

Georgetown MD
Nurses assist callers in finding physicians and services within the Georgetown system that meet their personal and medical needs. Georgetown MD also informs patients about resources, registers callers for health education, parenting classes and clinical trials, and provides information on medical topics and prescription and over-the-counter medications. The nurses also assist in scheduling appointments with selected physicians. This free service is available Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Call (202) 342-2400 or toll-free (866) 745-2633.

Lombardi CancerLine
Oncology nurses provide callers with information about cancer research protocols, source information for patients from the National Cancer Institute and the American Cancer Society and act as a resource to identify risk factors and determine ways to reduce cancer risk. The nurses also provide physician referrals and assist with appointment scheduling. Lombardi CancerLine is available Monday through Friday.

Call (202) 444-4000.

Organ Donation
Transplants of kidneys, heart, pancreas, liver, cornea, bone marrow, bone and skin are no longer experimental surgeries. These procedures are widely accepted forms of medical therapy and are highly successful. However, the number of people waiting for transplants is far greater than the number of people who donate organs. As a result, thousands of adults and children die waiting for their gift of life.

MedStar Georgetown University Hospital encourages everyone to sign an organ donor card and to discuss that decision with family members. Discussing and planning for organ and tissue donation while you are in good health can offer comfort and direction for your family if they are faced with the decision.

For more information about organ and tissue donation, please call the Washington Regional Transplant Community at (703) 641-0100.
Bloodless Medicine

The first of its kind in the greater Washington area, Georgetown’s Bloodless Medicine and Surgery Department offers an alternative to blood transfusions. Our specialty-trained surgeons, nurses and coordinators use the best practices in blood conservation to reduce blood loss and eliminate the need for donated blood during surgeries. As a result, patients recover faster with a reduced likelihood of blood-borne infections and fewer surgical complications. For more information, please call (202) 444-1797 or visit www.georgetownuniversityhospital.org/bloodless.

Pain Management

People used to think that severe pain was something they “just have to put up with.” With current treatments, that is no longer true. Today you can work with your doctors and nurses to help prevent and relieve pain.

Why should pain be controlled?

When your pain is controlled, you can prevent needless suffering as well as:

- Heal faster and feel better sooner.
- Start walking and doing your breathing exercises so you can get your strength back faster.
- Improve your results and avoid problems (such as pneumonia, blood clots and stress).

Pain Management Options

Both medication and non-medication treatments can be helpful in preventing and controlling pain. There are methods used to manage pain. Sometimes two or more methods are combined to get greater relief. You and your doctors and nurses should discuss and decide which methods are best for you.

Are you worried about getting "hooked" on pain medications?

Studies show this is very rare (less then 1%) unless you already have a problem with substance abuse.

Pain Management Methods

Medication

Several routes can be used to give pain medication. These include:

- Oral. Oral pain medications are taken by mouth in pill or liquid form.
- Injection. An injection is a “shot” of medication given with a needle into a muscle.
- Transdermal. Skin patches containing pain medication are applied to the skin and used for longer-term pain management.
- PCA (Patient Controlled Analgesia) Pump. You can control your pain by pushing a button. The pump then safely delivers small doses of pain medication through the intravenous (IV) tube in a vein.
- Spinal Catheter. A catheter is a small tube placed in your back by the anesthesiologist. The catheter is connected to a PCA pump which delivers pain medication and allows you to give extra doses when needed.

Non-Medication Methods

- Heat and Cold packs
- Splinting of an incision
- Massage
- Positioning
- Relaxation
- Prayer and positive thinking
- Distraction techniques (such as listening to music, watching TV, reading or visiting)

Communicating your pain

We ask that you help the nurses and doctors to measure your pain. You will be asked routinely to rate your pain in a scale of "0" to "10" ("0" means "no pain;" "10" means "worst pain imaginable"). Or, you may choose a "face" from the scale which best describes your pain. You will also be asked if you are experiencing any side effects such as itching, hives, etc. Reporting your pain also helps the nurses and doctors know how well your pain management treatment is working and whether to make changes.

Use this scale to rate your pain. If you have difficulty rating your pain using numbers, ask your nurse for an alternative pain scale.

No pain  Worst pain

It is important that you report uncontrolled pain.

- Don't worry about being a bother.
- Pain can be a sign of problems.
- The nurses and doctors want and need to know about it.

Don't automatically assume you need less pain medication because your pain is under control.

Help keep your pain under control. Being prepared helps put you in control. You may want to write down your questions before you meet with your doctor or nurse.

Be sure to:

- Talk with your nurses and doctors about pain control methods that have worked well or not so well for you in the past.
- Talk with your nurses and doctors about any concerns you may have about pain medication.
- Tell your nurses and doctors about any allergies or reactions to medications you have had in the past.
- Take your pain medication or ask the nurse for pain medication when the pain starts. This is key to proper pain control.
- Take pain medication prior to getting out of bed, walking, or doing breathing exercises. It is harder to ease pain once it has taken hold.

Let your doctors and nurses know if you are experiencing any problems such as itching, sickness to your stomach, constipation, or that you just don't feel right.

Your Healthcare Team
MedStar Georgetown University Hospital is a world-renowned academic medical center, committed to providing the best, most up-to-date patient care available. To do this, we use the skills and expertise of a large healthcare team, and at the same time, educate the next generation of professionals. You may see students from many of the disciplines listed on the following pages.
These students are under the direct supervision of a licensed professional. If you have additional questions about the role of students at Georgetown, please ask your nurse or doctor.

We encourage and depend on our patients and families to actively contribute to the process of planning and delivering care. Working together we can offer excellent customized patient care.

Here are some of the members of your team:

Medical Staff

Our doctors, residents and Fellows are dedicated to working together to ensure world-class diagnostic and treatment care.

Attending Physician

Your personal doctor diagnoses and treats your medical condition in addition to communicating daily with the rest of the staff to carefully monitor your optimal plan of treatment. Your doctor may call in other highly experienced medical specialists to help diagnose and treat your condition. Ask your physicians any questions you have concerning your care or condition. Some patients find it useful to write down their questions as they occur.

Resident Physicians/Fellow Physicians

These physicians are licensed medical doctors who are continuing their advanced training under the supervision of our attending doctors. These outstanding young doctors are selected through a competitive process from top medical centers throughout the country and the world. They are, in turn, responsible for the medical students.

Nurse Practitioners (NPs) and Physicians Assistants (PAs)

There are a significant number of medical, surgical and specialty NPs or PAs in both the outpatient and inpatient areas. They assist the attending physicians with patient care and are often readily available to monitor and update orders. They follow their patients' progress during the hospital stay and work to coordinate care with post-hospitalization treatment.

You often meet your surgical NPs or PAs during preadmission testing.

Registered Nurses (RNs)

A Georgetown Magnet nurse will be assigned to you each shift and is directly responsible for your care. Your RN will oversee your immediate team of nursing care providers, help to monitor your recovery, and teach you and your family the steps to care for yourself. Your nurse will direct the other members of the nursing team that includes clinical technicians, nursing assistants and unit secretaries. Nurse experts, such as enterostomal/wound nurses, are also available to assist in your care.

Each nursing unit has a nursing coordinator who is responsible for the overall management of operations on the unit. If you have a concern or question about your care, feel free to speak to the nursing coordinator or the assistant nursing coordinator.

You may have noticed that your RN wears a large gold triangular pin designating that he/she is a "Magnet nurse." Georgetown was awarded Magnet Status in 2004 for proven excellence in nursing care and patient care outcomes. Only 4% of the nation's hospitals can boast this award, and it communicates to patients and their families that they can expect the very best in nursing care. Magnet facilities consistently outperform non-Magnet hospitals, delivering better patient outcomes, shorter lengths of stay and increased patient satisfaction rates. Georgetown is currently the only hospital in Washington to have this distinction.

Licensed Practical Nurses (LPNs)

An LPN works in a team relationship with the RN to provide direct patient care, including treatments, medications, and other direct care.

Certified Nursing Assistants (CNAs) or Clinical Techs

Under the direct supervision of nurses, CNAs or Clinical Techs provide basic nursing care to patients.
Dieticians
Our registered and licensed dieticians are available to provide extensive assessment and education to all patients who require medical nutrition therapy. The dieticians are an integral part of the multidisciplinary team, and strive to ensure each patient's nutritional health. Your healthcare team may ask the dietician to visit you or you may ask your nurse to arrange for a dietician to talk to you.

Pharmacists
Clinical pharmacists are assigned to make rounds with the physician teams on patient care units to provide input into your medication therapy. They ensure that your drug regimen is customized to provide maximum benefit. You may ask to speak to a pharmacist if you have questions about your medications.

Physical Therapists, Occupational Therapists, and Speech Language Pathology Therapists
These therapists compose the Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation. At the request of your physician, these professionals provide quality therapy to adult and pediatric patients with physical dysfunction related to trauma, disease/illness and/or congenital problems. Such dysfunction may be related among other causes to neurological, orthopedic, neuromuscular, or oncology diagnosis. They also offer services on an outpatient basis.

Radiologic Technologists
These professionals carry out diagnostic imaging procedures on you at the request of your physician. Examples of these include routine x-rays; CT, MRI, or Nuclear Medicine scans; Ultrasound, or more invasive interventional procedures. The results are then interpreted by radiologists, who are physicians specialized in radiology, and reported to your doctor.

Respiratory Therapy
Respiratory Therapists work with physicians to monitor patients' breathing in all phases of care, and assist in treatment/diagnosis of lung disease in all age groups. Sometimes they help people stop smoking, work one-on-one with patients to improve lung function or treat asthma sufferers. Some therapists are “first responders” who provide emergency care for those requiring rapid response.

Case Managers and Social Workers
Case Managers are available to help you make arrangements for your post-hospital care. The staff can help you arrange for a nursing or rehabilitation facility; suggest physical, financial or emotional support services; arrange for visiting nurse or home care services; refer you to community resources for counseling about personal or family problems; and help you and your family face terminal illness. Case managers maintain a current list of home care agencies and will help you arrange services that are covered by your insurance. Call ext. 4-3750.

Our social workers can provide counseling to help you deal with any personal, social, emotional and/or financial stresses that may result from an injury or illness. In addition, the Case Management department will monitor your hospital stay to assure that you are not hospitalized longer than necessary to minimize out-of-pocket costs.

Chaplains
See Pastoral Care.

A Word about Private Duty Nurses
MedStar Georgetown University Hospital does not advocate the use of private duty nurses. However, if you wish to have a private nurse at your bedside, the Nursing Office, 1st floor Main, will provide you with a list of agencies for you to contact. Please be advised that these nurses are not authorized to provide professional nursing care such as the administration of treatments or medications. They may, however, assist you with personal hygiene and comfort care measures.
Ethics Consult Services
The Ethics Consult Service is a free, confidential advisory service available at any time to assist MedStar Georgetown University Hospital patients, families and healthcare professionals in identifying, analyzing and resolving ethical issues.
A Clinical Ethicist reviews each consult request. A full consult will generally involve a meeting of several ethicists, the healthcare team, you, and/or your family as appropriate. The ethicists facilitate discussions and clarify ethical issues in making important decisions. To request a consult, call the Page Operator at ext. 4-PAGE (ext. 4-7243) and request the "Ethics Consult Service."

After Discharge

Going Home
Your doctor will tell you when you will likely be discharged. The actual time of departure is often contingent on final "morning of" laboratory or radiology tests and a last assessment of your physical status by your doctors. We are very sensitive to the inconvenience that this may cause, and we will make every effort to keep you informed on the progress of your hospital discharge. After your physician has written your discharge orders, the nurse will review your discharge instructions with you and provide any prescriptions ordered by your physician. Be sure you understand these instructions and have contact names and phone numbers in the event you have questions or need to make follow up appointments. Valuables secured in the Protective Services office may be reclaimed by stopping by the Protective Services office on your way out, or by sending a family member to the office prior to departure. Please remember to bring the receipt in either case.
Unit personnel will escort you to the Main Lobby. Your bill will not have been fully itemized at the time of your discharge, so it will be mailed to your home once it has been completed.
The Outpatient Pharmacy is located on the ground floor of the Pasquerilla Healthcare Center (PHC). Prescriptions and selected over-the-counter medications may be conveniently purchased there on your way home.
You may receive a phone call from one of our nurses in the days after you go home. We are very interested in how you are progressing in your recovery. Feel free to ask questions that may arise after your discharge.

If You Need More Care
After your stay at MedStar Georgetown University Hospital, you may need additional follow-up care to help you reach your full potential for recovery and independence. Your case manager can provide a list of excellent options convenient to your home. Many patients benefit from medical rehabilitation, especially individuals with spinal cord injury, stroke, brain injury, cardiac conditions, or a variety of orthopedic conditions. MedStar Georgetown University Hospital provides excellent rehabilitation services on an outpatient basis if you are able to regularly come back to the hospital for therapy. Among many options for inpatient rehabilitation, National Rehabilitation Hospital (NRH), a member of MedStar Health and rated as one of "American's Best Hospitals" by U.S. News & World Report, offers a complete range of medical rehabilitation services both at its inpatient hospital and at more than 35 NRH Regional Rehab outpatient locations throughout the area. National Rehabilitation Hospital offers physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech and language therapy, psychology services, prosthetics and assistive technologies, a team of doctors and nurses who specialize in medical rehabilitation and many other services. As a patient you are at the center of this team as they work with you to reach goals that are individualized to meet your life and goals. For more information, call (202) 877-4NRH or ask your Case Manager for additional information.

Is Home Care Right for You?
Hospital stays are very short today. You might go home before you fully understand your diagnosis; before you can handle your wound care by yourself; before you can get out of bed unassisted; or while you are still weak... and unable to go to the doctor's office for follow-up care. In such situations, home care can provide a continuation of the care you received in the hospital from nursing, therapy, or aide services.

Home care can bring the services, technologies, therapies and equipment of a hospital into the comfort and privacy of your home. Again, your case manager can review with you the many options available.

MedStar Health Visiting Nurse Association (VNA) has been providing home care since 1900. They can ease your transition from hospital to home because they have answers to many of your questions and concerns. The first step is knowing that you, a family member, or your doctor can call (800) 862-2166 to arrange for home care 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

VNA works with you and your doctor to develop an individualized care plan. We then put together a home care team of skilled professionals who work with you and your family to understand your condition, determine how many visits are needed, and what types of services you can expect to receive. The home care team may include a nurse, therapist, home health aide, social worker or nutritionist depending on your needs. The team may also include IV therapy to provide chemotherapy, antibiotic therapy, and pain control therapy or total parenteral nutrition.

Medical Records

Because your medical records are confidential, the hospital has safeguards in place to protect the privacy of your records.

Your written permission is required for the release of information from your records except in those situations specified by the federal Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA). (You received a pamphlet, "Notice of Privacy Practices," when you first came to MedStar Georgetown University Hospital. This document outlines all of our procedures and practices related to protecting your health information.) While the information in your medical record is about you and is your information, the actual physical record is the property of GUH. Your physician will usually arrange to send information from your record to those who will be seeing you for follow-up care. However, there may also be other circumstances that require you to obtain copies of your records. If this is the case, please contact our Health Information Management Department at (202) 444-3392 to make arrangements for any record-related information pertaining to your stay here. Please note, requests for records related to outpatient doctor's office appointments must be separately requested directly through your doctor's office. There is a charge for patients who wish to obtain copies of their medical records for personal use.

Saying Thanks

Patients frequently ask how they can best express their gratitude for the compassionate care they receive at our hospital. Staff members are not permitted to accept tips or gratuities, and gifts are discouraged. However, if you feel that staff members have excelled in caring for you, we urge you to mention them by name in a letter to our hospital president (c/o Main Administration, MedStar Georgetown University Hospital, 3800 Reservoir Road, Washington, DC 20007). They will be recognized as a "Georgetown Caring Star." You may also receive a telephone survey about your hospital stay from Discovery Research. This is another opportunity for you to highlight any service or employees that you wish to recognize.

MedStar Patient Experience Surveys

Our Magnet nurses and award-winning physicians and staff are extremely proud of the quality of our healthcare. We are pleased to give you an opportunity to comment on individuals and services that you feel were particularly noteworthy. Your observations form the basis in part for our employee reward system and your suggestions about your visit at Georgetown are highly valued by those who cared for you. The telephone survey from Discovery Research will take less than 10 minutes. Patients are selected randomly to participate, and you may elect to answer or not answer any specific question. We want to always provide an excellent experience for you and we urge you to participate in this telephone survey if you are contacted. If you have questions about participating in this effort, please contact hospital administration at (202) 444-3000.

Information for Parents of Hospitalized Children

The staff of the Pediatric ICU and Pediatrics Unit takes great pride in offering your child excellent care. We are committed to the principles of family-centered care that encourage close collaboration and cooperation between the healthcare team, patient and parent.

Your Child's Comfort

We realize that as parents, you want your child to feel comfortable and secure while in the hospital. We encourage you to bring items from home that are familiar and reassuring to your child, such as a favorite toy and book; small blanket and pillow; pajamas, slippers and daytime outfit; DVD and VHS movies; and photos of family, friends and pets. Parents or primary adult caregivers are welcome to visit their child 24 hours a day and while overnight arrangements differ depending on the acuity of your child, for general pediatric patients, a parent may spend the night in a sleeper cot in the child's room. Guests should visit during hospital hours, which are 11:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. Siblings are welcome to visit but due to space limitations, no more than three people at a time, including parents, are allowed in a child's room.

Preparing Your Child

Talk with your child about the hospital and what he/she might expect during the stay. There are many members of their healthcare team who will meet with them throughout the day, such as doctors, nurses, respiratory therapists and others. They will visit and talk with the child and family in the room. The healthcare team will need to examine your child and provide clinical care, such as medications, checking temperature and blood pressure. They will sometimes wear gloves, masks and gowns.
To learn more about preparing your child, please visit our webpage, www.georgetownuniversityhospital.org and type “Child Life” in the search box.

Click on "Child Life Program" in the results. Then, click on “Preparing Your Child for Hospitalization.”
